Euro Air Lockers Protect Your Leisure Life

In addition to work and family, leisure activities will become more and more important in the 21st century. However, current lockers systems have a number of drawbacks. Iron lockers, for instance, are only available in dull colors and are susceptible to rust, dents and mold. Wooden lockers on the other hand, easily rot, mold and develop offensive odors. Because of this, Formica has created the Euro Air Lockers System—an innovative safety system designed specifically for a new generation of leisure activity.

Euro Air Lockers are created with many extraordinary features including resistance to moisture, heat, abrasions, fire, cigarette burns, mold, and odor. They are also easy to clean, extremely durable and have 36 vivid colors to choose from for the doors and body panels. Euro Air Lockers have set a new standard in secured locker designs. They are the ideal choice for your personal storage needs.
